FROG

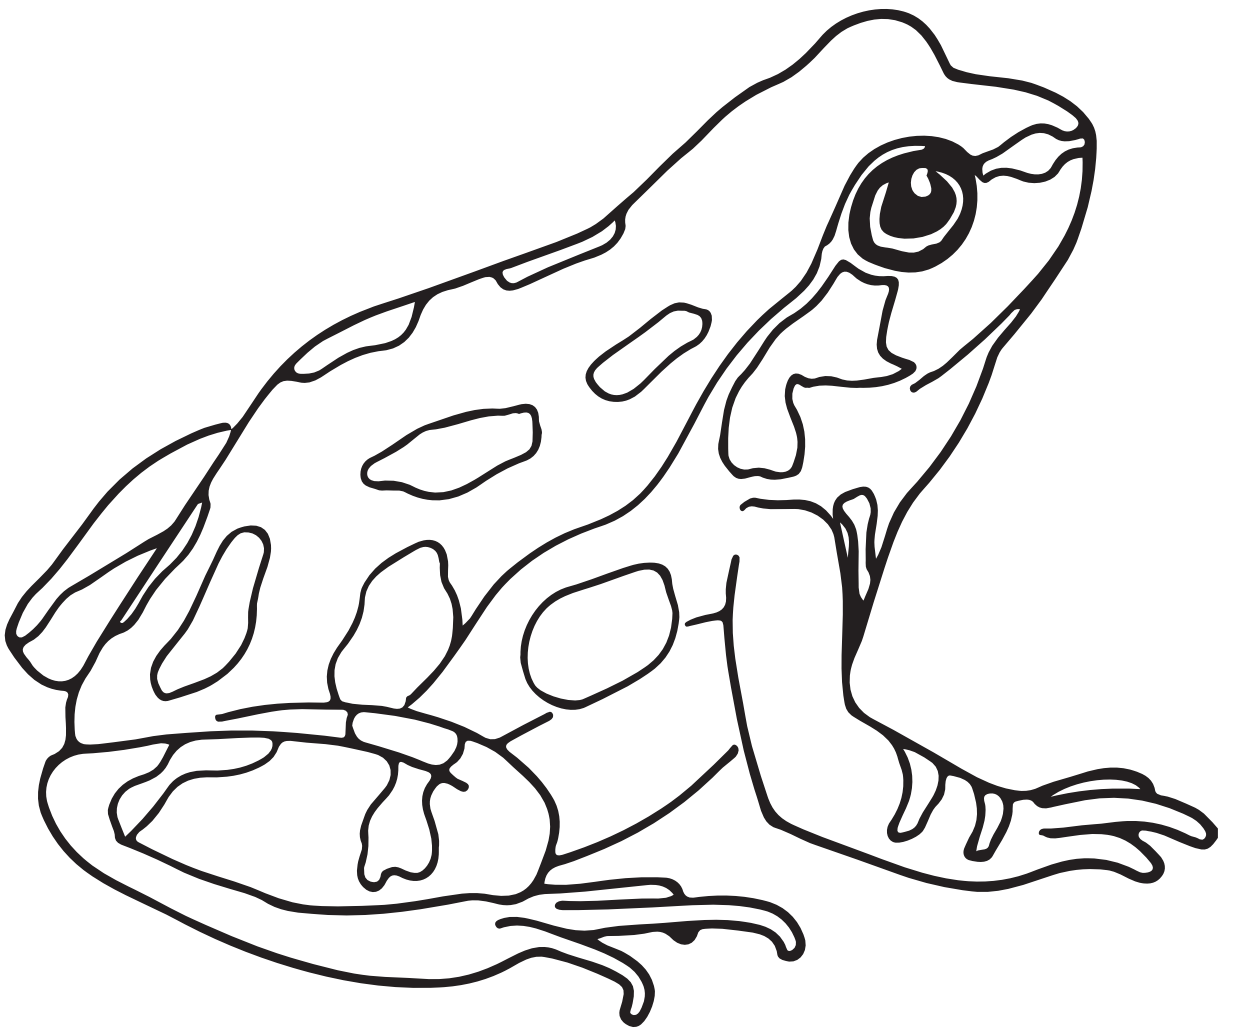

Emersyn Blake's Wondering:

How do frogs survive in the winter?

What she found out:

Frogs burrow down deep and hibernate in winter.

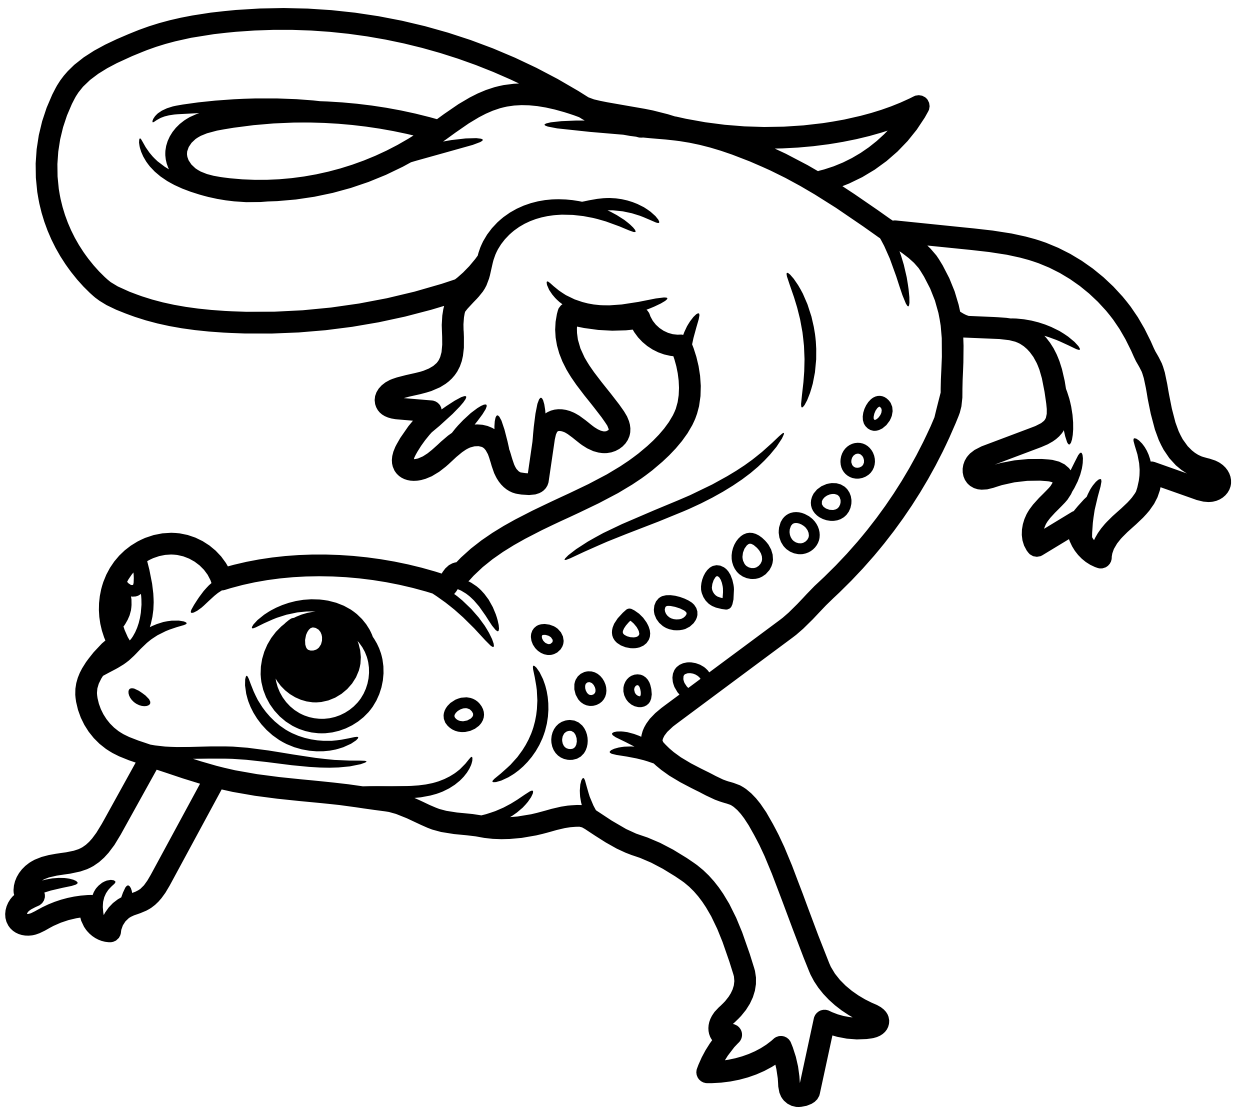

FROG

What do you wonder about frogs?

What did you find out?

SALAMANDER

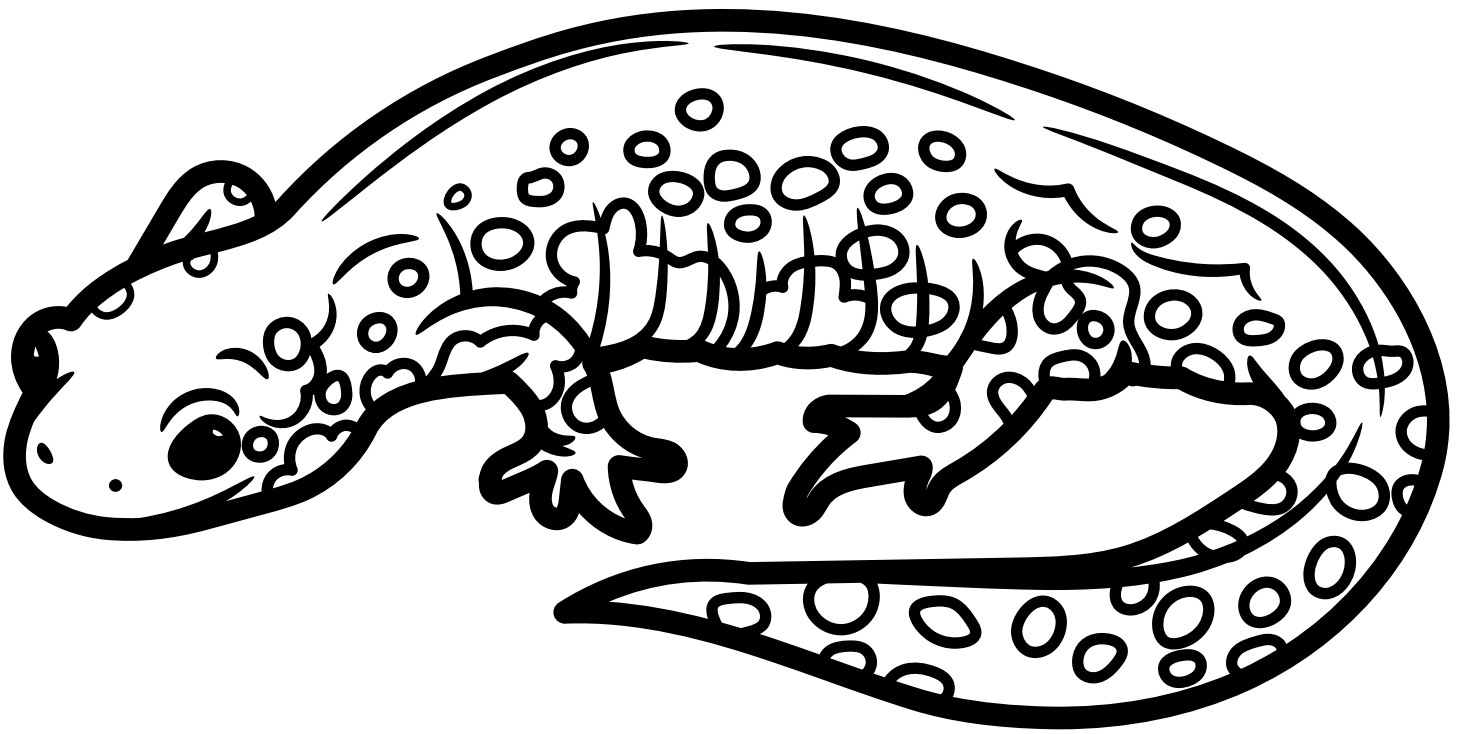

Emersyn Blake's Wondering:

Do salamanders have teeth?

What she found out:

Salamanders have tiny teeth, but they don't use them to chew. They use them to hold onto prey so they can swallow it whole.

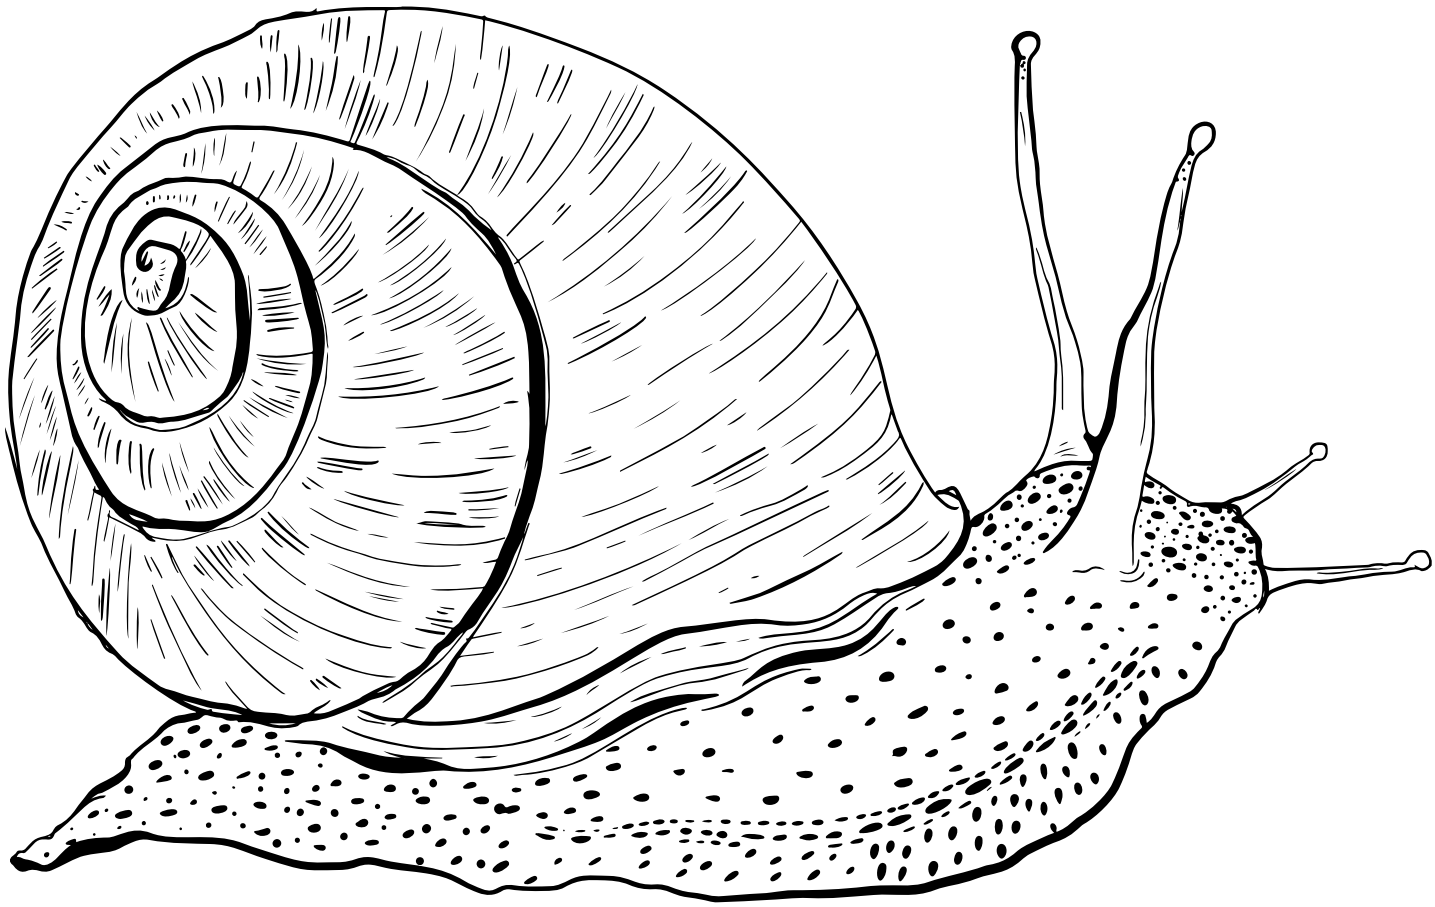

SALAMANDER

What do you wonder about salamanders?

What did you find out?

SNAIL

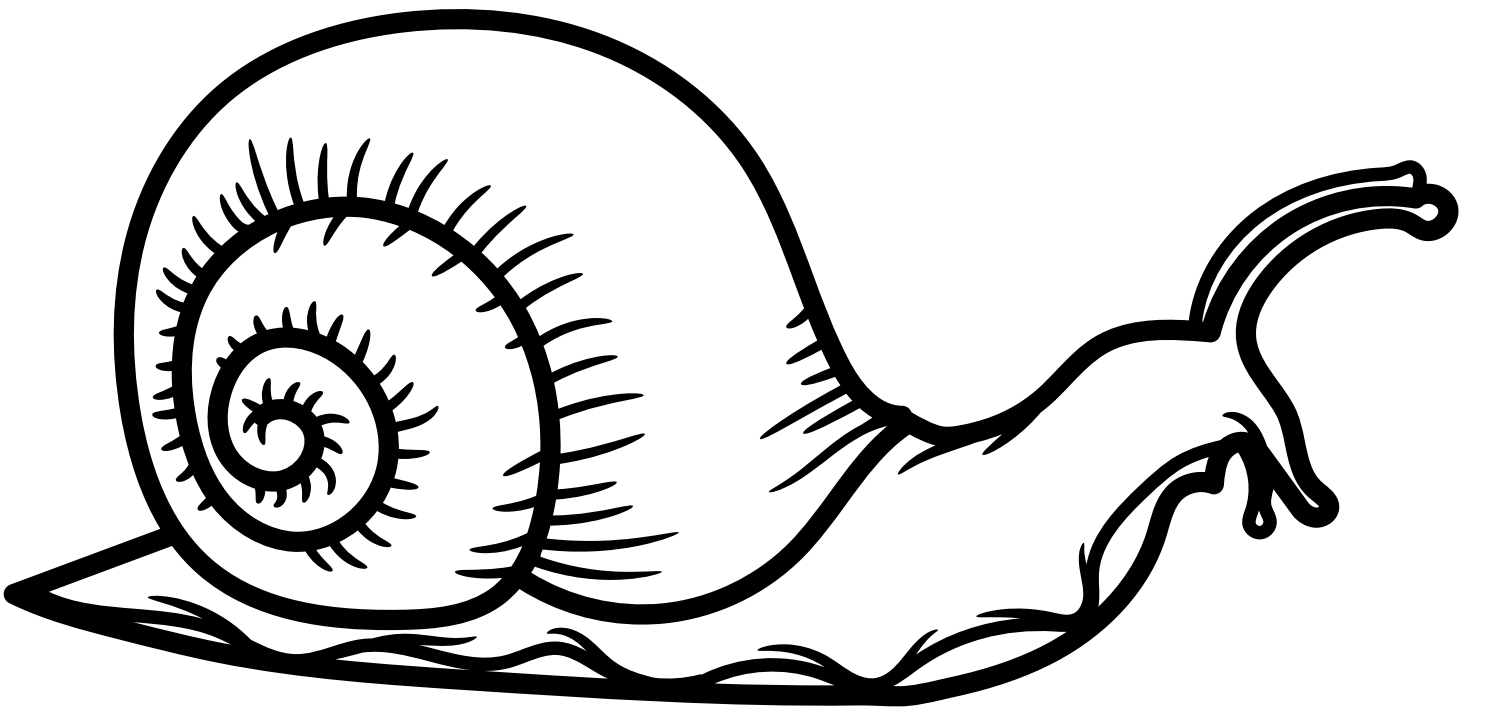

Emersyn Blake's Wondering:

Why do snails have antennae?

What she found out:

They are actually not antennae, but tentacles. The snail's eyes are in the top tentacles, and the lower tentacles are used to smell things.

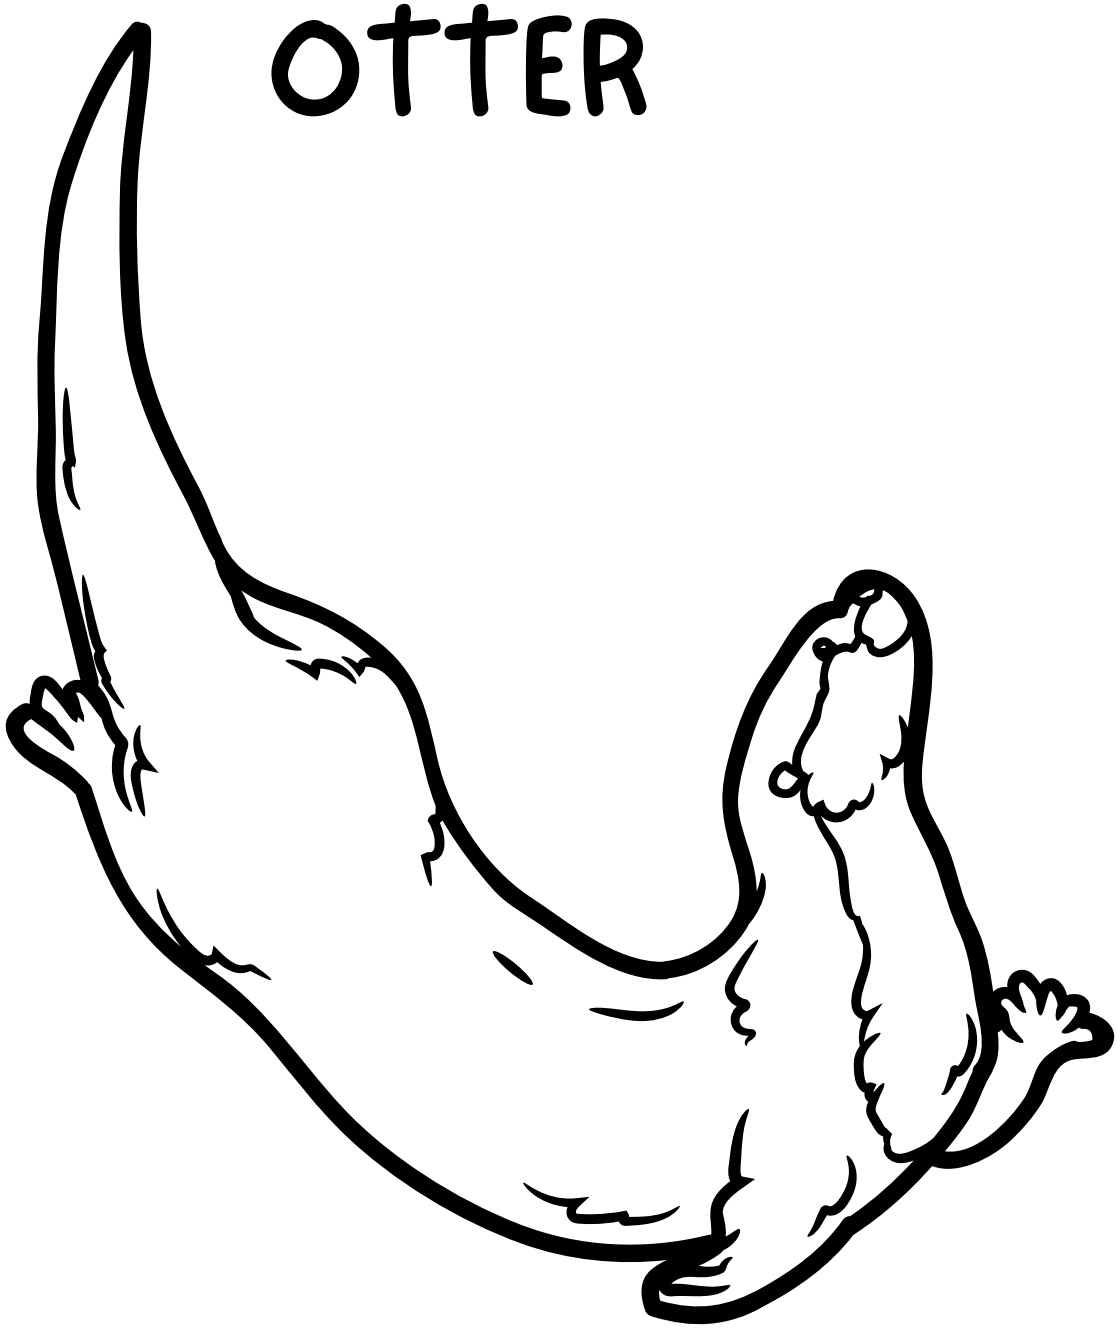

SNAIL

What do you wonder about snails?

What did you find out?

OTTER

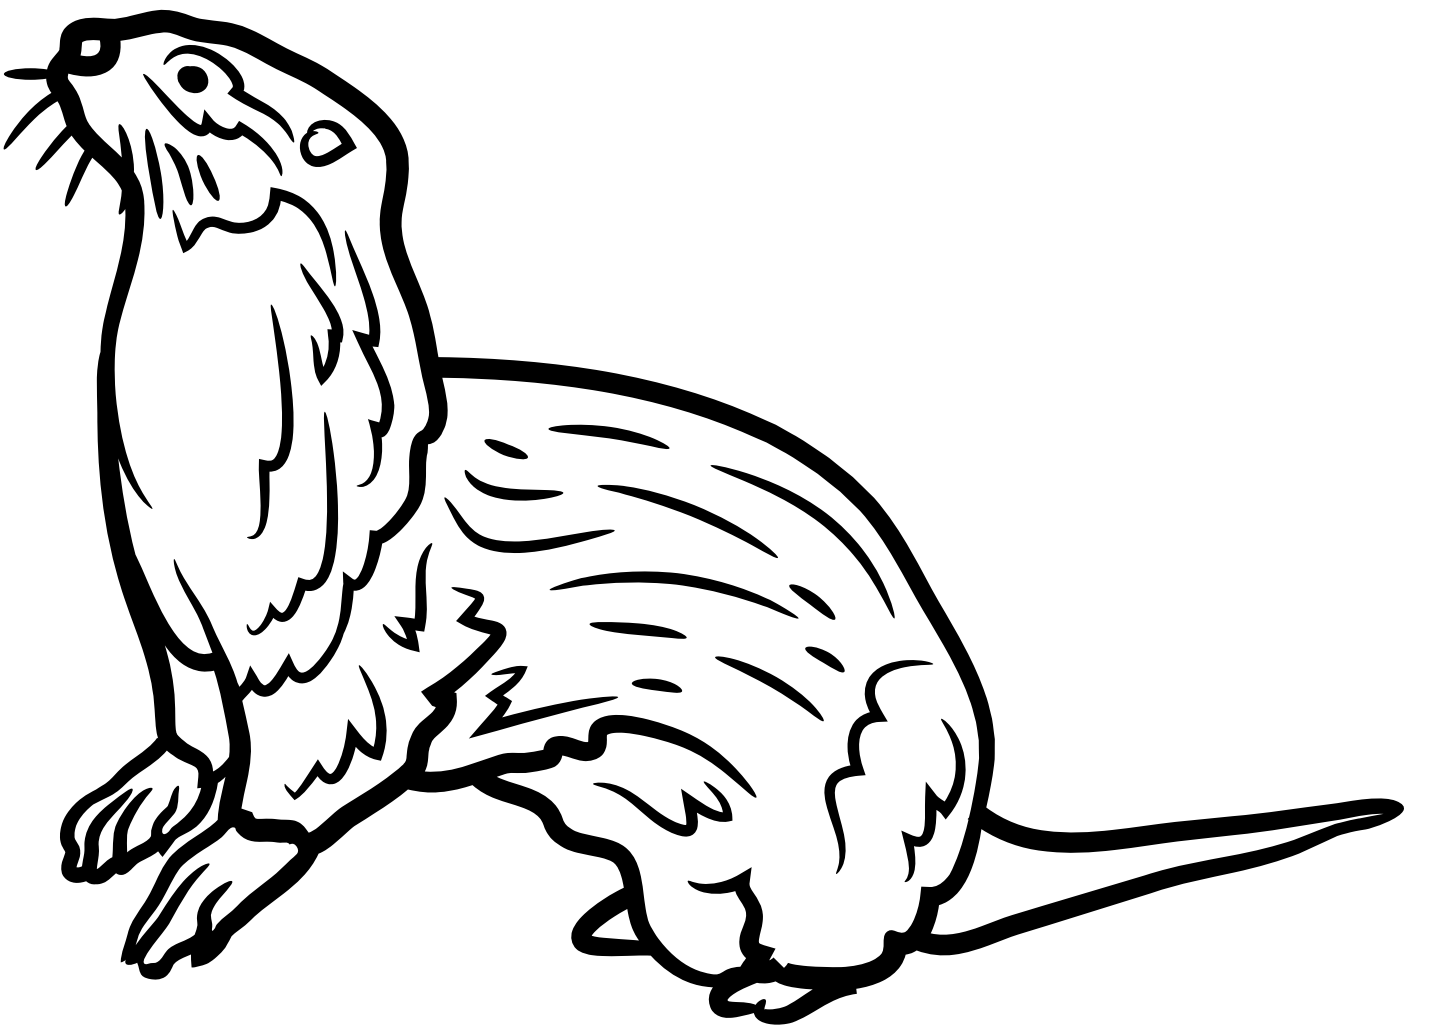

Emersyn Blake's Wondering:

How do otters stay warm?

What she found out:

Otters have two layers of fur that help them stay warm when swimming in cold water.

OTTER

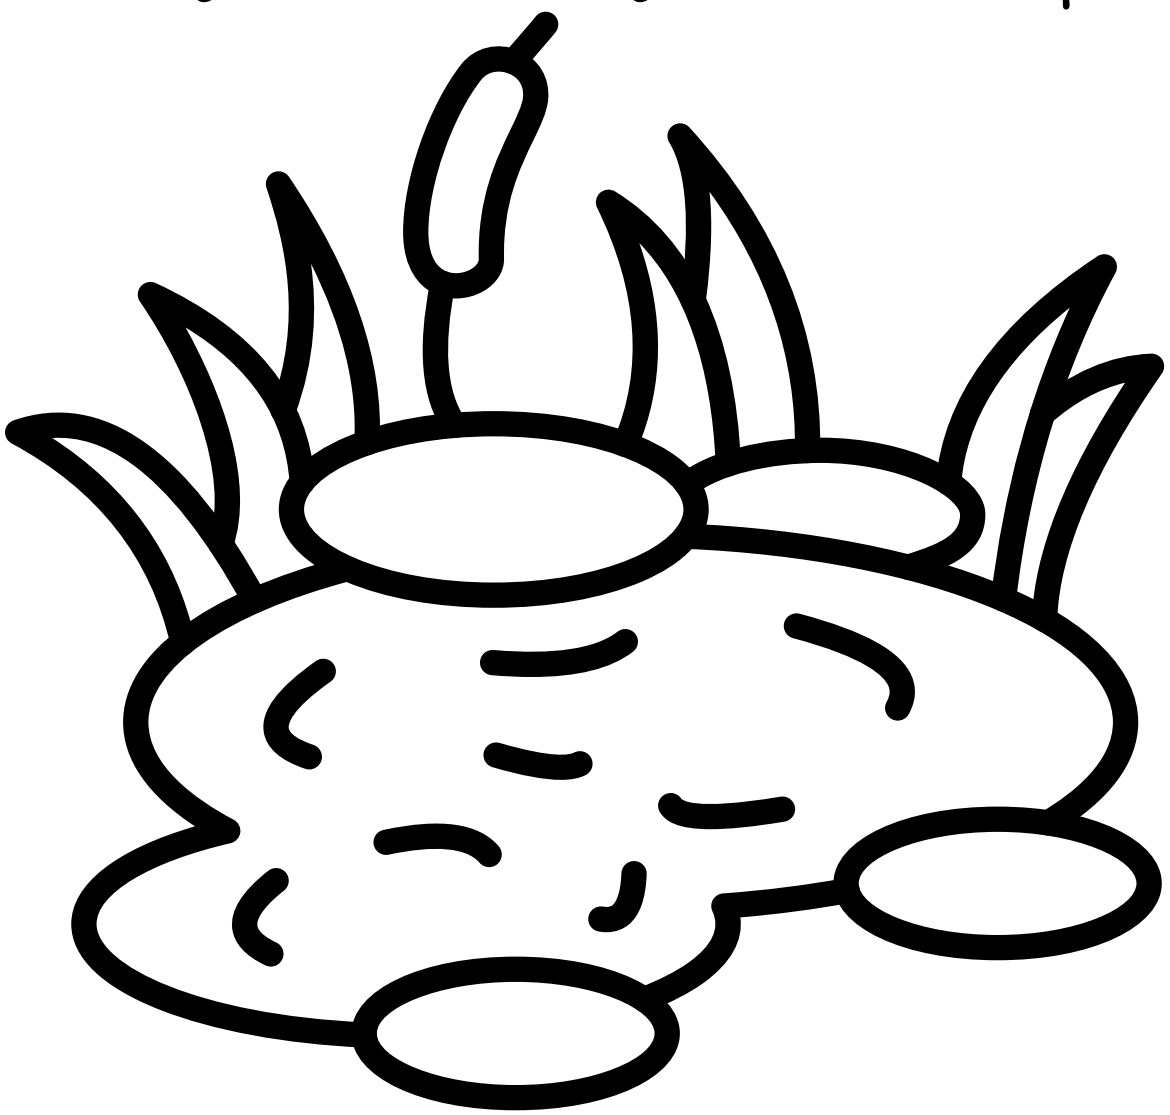

What do you wonder about otters?

What did you find out?

POND LIFE

How many creatures can you add to this pond?

Emersyn Blake's Wondering:

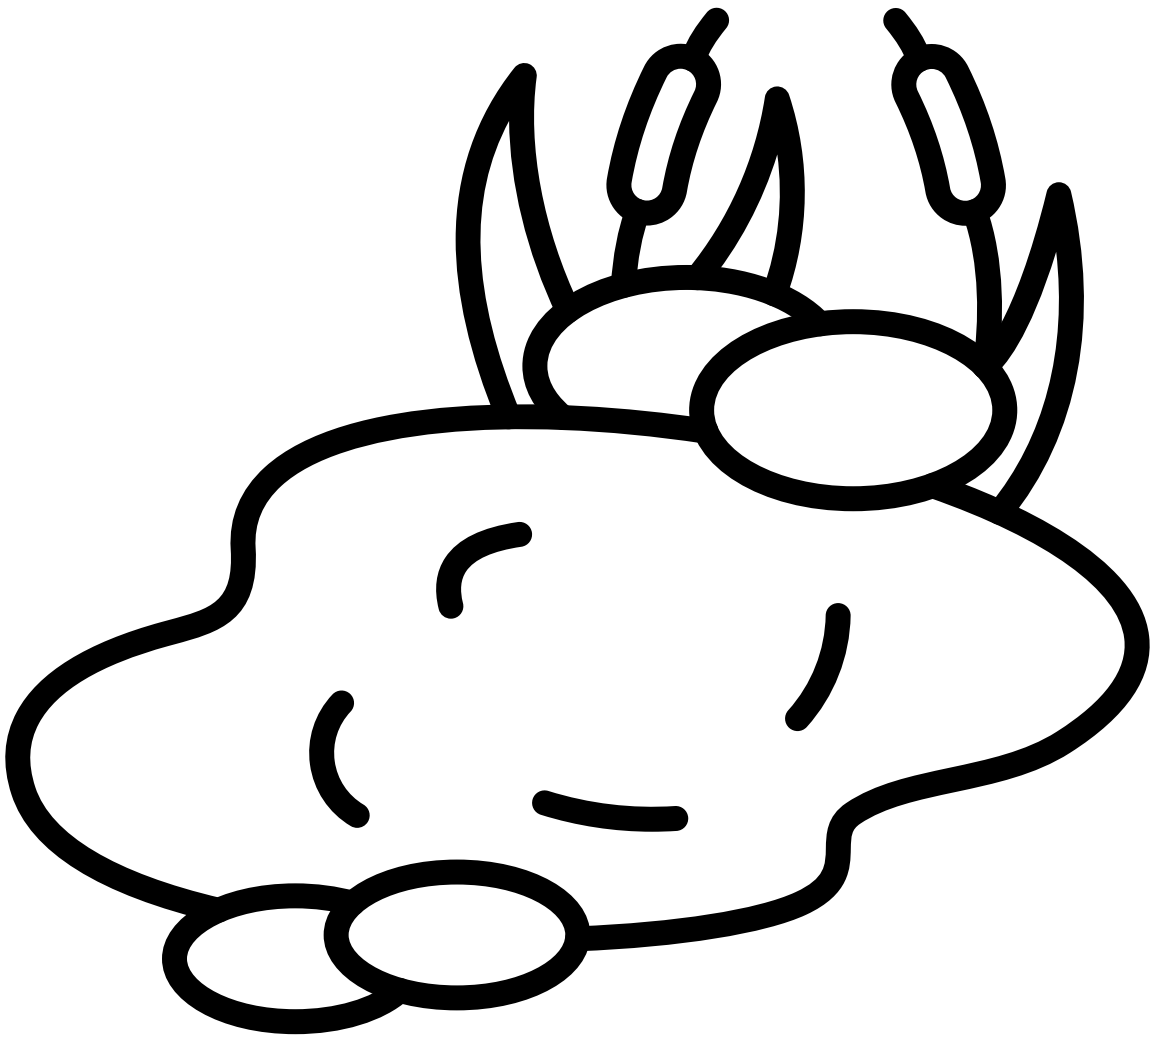

Why are ponds important?

What she found out:

Ponds create safe homes for lots of creatures. They also help clean the water that flows through them.

POND LIFE

How many more can you add here?

What do you wonder about ponds?

What did you find out?